Designed for a perfect fit.

Hunters, marksmen and law enforcement professionals are travelling the world with their firearms in tow, striving to catch that perfect shot or carry out critical missions. These demanding conditions require a case solution that will safely protect, organize and transport their firearms. This sensitive and valuable equipment needs world class protection.

The NANUK™ Firearms series is a plug and play solution engineered to protect your weapons during transport. The custom foam inserts have been carefully designed to accommodate most firearms and automatic rifles with additional storage space for accessories. Need room for extra magazines? We thought of that. Want to include a trigger lock with your gun? There's space for that too. Each case interior has been tailored to perfectly fit your equipment using only the highest quality foam materials. Simply pack and go.

Plasticase recognizes the importance of safety when transporting firearms. That's why all of our cases come equipped with at least two lockable eyelets so the case can be secured using padlocks. NANUK™ ensures that your equipment is always safely stored and survives the journey.
